

Magazine is bankrupt

NEW YORK (UPI) — The controversial monthly Scanlan's has filed for bankruptcy.

Co-editor Sidney Zion said the year-old magazine had liabilities of $360,000 and assets of $62,900. ✓

Mr. Zion blamed the magazine's troubles, in part, on "hard hat printing unions." Printers in the U.S. refused to print last October's issue, devoted to "guerrilla war in the U.S.," on grounds it was un-American. After the edition was printed in Canada, Montreal police seized it until it was released by court order.
